

What's Hot - chic new places to check out this month

Lonely Planet Writer ABOUT 1 HOUR AGO

Summer is upon us and its time to step out finally. While summer inadvertently means travel, it also means stepping out in your own city, or a neighboring one. We bring you some of the chicest new places to check this month in Delhi. From an elite club to a posh new restaurant, to residences and a delivery kitchen.

SAGA boasts of Asia's tallest bar ©SAGA

SAGA

A massive 190-seater restaurant, SAGA is spread over 2 levels and a sprawling alfresco space in the heart of Gurugram. The plush restaurant by the day turns into a high-energy nightclub in the evening and stands out for its size, décor, and what is supposed to be Asia's tallest bar. The highpoint of SAGA however is the menu. Designed by Michelin Star chef Atul Kochhar, and his team the menu showcases a confluence of flavours, textures, and ingredients from the heartland of India. Regional recipes like Himachali Sepu Vadi and Dal Moradabadi that are hardly known outside their home cities sit comfortably on the menu along with innovative dishes like cheese board naan and panchamrit ice cream.
